HEAVYWEIGHT CROWN CHANGES WHEN BAER LOSES TO BRADDOCK

New Jersey Veteran Springs Biggest Surprise in Ring History by Dethroning Californian as Ruler of Heavies—Baer Entered Ring a 10-to-1 Favorite

By EDWARD J. NEIL

Associated Press Sports Writer

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN BOWL, NEW YORK, June 13.—Max Baer couldn't lick the man depression couldn't lick, and so lanky, hungry Jimmy Braddock, longest long shot of them all, tonight came gallantly to the almost unbelievable conclusion of a desperate quest—heavyweight champion of the world.

He came plodding, sometimes stumbling, but always clear-eyed and courageous, and in the end, as 30,000 stunned but prayerful spectators screamed him on—sensing one of the most dramatic moments in the history of the prize ring—they lifted his hand in victory, conqueror of the glamorous Baer by the unanimous decision of Referee Johnny McAvoy and two judges after fifteen bitter rounds.

He had done the impossible, this twenty-nine-year-old Irish icle from New Jersey, a 1-to-10 shot when he calmly touched his gloves to those of the glittering, sun-browned champion as the startling bell echoed through the great sunken bowl, rang out over the heads of the big crowd, come to hope for him, to suffer with him, not daring to believe he could win.

FOUGHT GAMELY

And as he struggled on, gamely fighting the best fight that was in him, taking everything the burly Baer hurled at him, shaking off punishment, stabbing out incessantly with his left, punching it out bitterly when he had to with the man whose snarls completely demolished Max Schmeling and the formidable Maxie Rosenbloom, you could feel the tension increasing, feel breaths shortening, until the pressure was so great the hair stood up on the back of your neck.

Jimmy, the common citizen, the twenty-nine-year-old father of three children, a preliminary fighter a year ago, on relief a year before that, didn't win with any great glorious gesture. Methodically, his expression never changing, a man of ring destiny, he ploughed along.

KING IS MAKING GOOD PROGRESS

Able to Drive at Sandringham—Queen Present At State Ball

SANDRINGHAM, England, June 12 (AP).—King George, despite his catarrhal ailment, took another automobile drive over the royal estate here today. His progress was described as satisfactory.

LONDON, June 13 (AP).—The Queen, wearing a gown of pink lace, sat alone on a golden throne at the end of the long white and gold ballroom in Buckingham Palace tonight as 2,000 guests dined at the second court ball of the Jubilee year.

The King was recovering from an attack of bronchial catarrh at Sandringham, so the Prince of Wales escorted the Queen into the ballroom and took his place in the royal circle.

The Queen was a glittering figure, the famed Koh-i-noor among the diamonds in her corsage.

Dogs Lead to River's Edge Hunting Boy

RICHMOND, B.C., June 13 (AP).—Dogs repeatedly leading police to the water in their search for five-year-old Bobby Scherw, led to the theory the fast-swimming Fraser River had claimed the boy's life.

Young Scherw had been missing from his home at Odium Road and No. 4 Avenue since yesterday afternoon. Dragging operations will be started tomorrow.

Falls Dead When Entering Council

PARIS, June 13 (AP).—Philippe Marcombes, Minister of Education, fell dead from an apoplectic stroke this day in the Elysee Palace. He entered the council chamber for the first council of ministers since the Cabinet of Premier Pierre Laval was granted extraordinary powers.

The minister, fifty-eight, first entered Cabinet service in the Government of Edouard Herriot, overthrown December 14, 1932.

The meeting was postponed indefinitely.

Seeking Source of Franc Speculation

Several financial establishments of Paris have been investigated in the hope of finding those responsible for speculation on the franc. Two establishments in particular are under the eye of the police "judiciale"—the Turin Bank and the Bank Franco-Chinese. Photo shows scene outside the Bank Turin during the visit of the police and during which books and documents were seized.

MUNITIONS PLANT IN GERMANY ERASED BY EXPLOSION AND FIRE

Scenes of Horror and Desolation Follow Series of Blasts Which Killed or Injured Virtually Every Employee—Fifty-Two Dead Is Official Estimate of Government

COMMENCING at 8:30 in the morning, with a meeting of the women's committee, and following at 9 o'clock with a gathering of the British Columbia executive of the party, provincial Conservatives will converge in Victoria tomorrow. Dr. Frank Patterson, provincial president, will preside over the executive gathering, while Mrs. Angus McLean will take the chair at the women's meeting. City and Island delegates to both bodies will be well represented.

REINSDORF, Germany, June 13.—A series of thundering explosions virtually wiped out this munitions manufacturing town. Virtually every employee working in the great Westfalen Anhalt explosive works, which employs 13,000 persons, was believed dead or injured.

The burgomaster of Reinsdorf estimated the deaths might reach 1,000. The Propaganda Ministry, however, placed the dead at first accounts at twenty-two and said the number would not be known until the evening when officials could count the secret ballot among stricken workers. News reported twenty bodies had been recovered. It said "at least fifty" were dead, seventy-three seriously injured, and 300 slightly hurt.

BANNED UNION MEN AT POLLS

BALANCE OF STRIKING MINERS At Juneau Vote to Return To Work

JUNEAU, Alaska, June 13 (AP).—A vote of 461 in favor of returning to work, to only three for continuing the strike, was announced tonight by a citizens' committee named by Mayor E. C. Johnson. The result of a secret ballot among strikers in the big Alaskan Jones Gold Mine. Union members, however, making up most of the balance of the approximately 900 men out, were not permitted to vote.

The committee said forty-nine ballots had been thrown out because of technicalities, and about thirty miners were out of the city.

VOTING BY MAIL

The ballot was taken by mail, the committee said, to prevent threats of intimidations of persons going to the polls.

Peaceful picketing of the mine, now the scene of a twenty-two-day strike for higher wages and shorter hours demanded by the Mine Workers' Union, continued today.

Nellie Mediator Dewey Knight, the union nor the company heads would comment on the vote.

SERIES OF TELEGRAMS

The following series of telegrams have been exchanged between the Saskatchewan Premier and Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, the first one a reply to Mr. Gardner's first wire.

"Your wire re marchers received. Understand both railways are forthcoming requests to you for assistance to stop unlawful strike by the people of any province or city."

STATE POLICE ARE MOBILIZED

Governor of Oregon Orders Force to Lumber Strike Duty

CALGARY, June 13 (AP).—Injured in an automobile mishap Wednesday night, John Adam of Calgary died in the Banff Hospital late today. Mrs. Adam, his wife, suffered minor injuries.

PORTLAND, June 13 (AP).—State police, ordered to strike duty by Governor Charles H. Martin, drove a crowd of pickets from the Simpson Lumber Mill, near Forest Grove, late today, after county officers called for reinforcements.

Following a policy of non-resistance and no violence, the bitter-striking force sought a court order to issue an injunction from preventing peaceful picketing.

Governor Martin today ordered the entire state police force concentrated for strike duty following a declaration by union chiefs that they would mobilize 8,000 union men, if necessary, and assert their rights of peaceful picketing at the Bridal Veil Lumber Company operations, from which pickets were "herded" yesterday by state police.

HORSE NOT OBSOLETE

CONWAY, Mo., June 13 (AP).—A nation-wide general strike was ordered by Mexico's twelve most powerful labor organizations today as an answer to former President Plutarco Elias Calles' asserted anti-labor declarations Tuesday.

The strike, the date for which was to be set later, was termed the "only means of defense against the possible implantation of a Fascist regime."

Railroad, trolley, mining and electric employees joined workers and peasant groups in voting censure of the former executive.

No Fortune in Box Opened by Order of Court

Safety Deposit Found to Contain Only Confidential Papers of Eccentric Old Lady Whose Wealth Is Alleged to Have Been Stolen and Income Tax Evaded

VANCOUVER, June 13 (P).—Attorneys for the heirs of Mrs. Sarah E. Smith-Scollard, wealthy eccentric, took another step in a series of legal actions against Mrs. Sadie R. Brown, widow of Reese Brown, of Yakima, Wash., today when the court ordered a safety deposit box opened and it was found to contain confidential papers of the mysterious Mrs. Smith-Scollard.

It was proceeding 784 in the Superior Court of British Columbia, in the case of William Carter, public administrator, versus The Canadian Bank of Commerce and Sadie R. Brown, alias Anna M. Clark.

COUNSEL'S CONTENTION
Counsel for the heirs, Wilmer Tucker and Denton Burdick, of Seattle, have contended flatly in Seattle that Brown gained an influence over the eccentric old lady, apparently through her efforts to get her to hide in Montreal to evade income tax charges, and that the Brown heirs have concealed the "fortune." Mrs. Brown testified in Seattle that there was no fortune. Her fortune formerly was estimated at ten million dollars.

She also testified she knew of no safety deposit box involving the Smith-Scollard estate, and held none, except for one in Montreal, under the alias of "Sally Strong."

QUANTITY OF PAPERS

On order of the court, Box 1111 in the Canadian bank was drilled today and found to contain quantities of Mrs. Smith-Scollard's papers.

Says Treaty Is Violated On Columbia

Ottawa, June 13 (P).—The Dominion Government is aware of conditions on the Columbia River in British Columbia, but is not prepared to state whether the Oregon Boundary Treaty of 1846 has been or is likely to be violated, or what steps will be taken. Prime Minister R. B. Bennett told the House of Commons today, he was answering a question from Thomas Reid (Liberals, New Westminster), who asked if the Government was aware the treaty had been violated.

Mr. Reid asked if the Government was aware a provision of the treaty had been violated that Columbia River and its branches were to be kept open for navigation by all British subjects from the forty-ninth parallel of north latitude to the Pacific Ocean.

MANY BILLS BECOME ACTS

Royal Assent Is Given to Twenty Measures at Ottawa

Ottawa, June 13 (P).—Royal assent to twenty bills was given today in the Senate chamber, by Sir Lyman P. Duff, deputy of the Governor-General.

Measures upon which the royal stamp of approval was placed included the Government Public Works Construction Bill; amending legislation to the Special War Revenue, Excise and Customs Tariff Acts in conformance with budget changes; the remodeled Copyright Act; bill amending the Meat and Livestock Act to remove any doubt of the right of the Government in Council to impose fees for inspection of canned fish and shellfish; one-twelfth supply measure; bill amending the Interpretation Act and twelve measures granting divorce applications.

GIVES NOTICE

Notices of motion were given earlier by Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Senate leader, of his intention to move, next week, resolutions approving the international convention adopted at Geneva in 1931 for regulation of whaling and the Canada-United States convention of the second convention.

Mr. Bryan, who is a pianist of considerable ability, is to give a recital in the Hotel Grand Victoria, Vancouver, next Thursday, but the main object of his visit there is to conduct examinations.

In similar role, he has just recently visited Australia and New Zealand, and since arriving on Vancouver Island has visited Courtenay, Cumberland, and Duncan in the same capacity.

Man-Killing Shark Is Rare Specimen

NEW YORK, June 13 (P).—The large fish caught a few days ago by Francis H. Low, of Woodmere, Long Island, was identified today by Dr. John T. Nichols, curator at the American Museum of Natural History, as a specimen of the very rare white shark or man-killer.

He said the white shark is rare not more than four or five years are caught and identified in New York.

The Senate will reconvene next Tuesday.

OFFICERS OF GRAND LODGE ARE ELECTED

NANAIMO, June 13.—The fourth annual convention of the IOOF Grand Lodge ended here this evening with a memorial parade followed by a ball in the Odd Fellows' Hall.

During the day Chilliwack was the point chosen for the 1936 convention meeting, and officers of the Grand Lodge were elected as follows: Grand master, George G. Scott, of Okanagan; deputy grand master, G. E. Fitzwater, Kamloops; grand warden, William Carmichael, Nanaimo; grand secretary, E. L. Webber, New Westminster; treasurer, Fabian Hugh, Cloverdale; grand representative to Sovereign Lodge, W. G. Houston, Merritt.

STAYS UNCONSCIOUS FOR THREE MONTHS

EDMONTON, June 13 (P).—Unconscious for three months, the small son of Mr. and Mrs. Glane Olson, of Beaver, Alberta, has been admitted to hospital here.

The lad was injured when he was dragged by a pony. He never regained consciousness, but otherwise apparently is in good health.

Hospital authorities said he has a brain tumor.

TWINS HOLD REUNION

OMAHA, Neb., June 13 (P).—John J. Wilters, of Omaha, and Charles Wilters, of Milwaukee, the eighty-five-year-old twin who think they may be "about the oldest living in America" held their annual reunion here yesterday. They were born in Germany and both left home at the age of fourteen, later serving in the British Merchant Marine.

ZOUAVES TO CAMP

QUEBEC, June 13 (P).—Approximately 1,500 Zouaves from all parts of Canada will spend three days under canvas in more than 300 tents which will be set up here when the Regiment of Canadian Pontifical Zouaves will hold its annual convention in Quebec on July 20, 21 and 22. The meeting will coincide with the seventy-fifth anniversary of the foundation of the regiment.

Filthy Condition Of City Beaches Shocks Alderman

Dr. J. D. Hunter, Chairman of Health Committee, Starts Probe Into Garbage Dumping—Is Determined to Secure Action—Advances Several Proposals for City's Consideration

ALDERMAN Dr. J. D. Hunter has seen for himself, and has done nothing definite, his health committee will espouse the cause of cleaner beaches around Victoria, and thoroughly investigate the garbage dumping question.

Besieged with complaints from irate citizens, Alderman Hunter dumped it. It was 10 a.m. He hurried to the pilot house, where he ascertained that the tide started to come in at 7:00 a.m. and would be an incoming tide with a south-easterly wind.

"What chance has the garbage got to get to sea under conditions like that?" Alderman Hunter declared. "Why, none at all. The stuff simply floats back as quick as it's taken out."

FILTHY BEACHES
He found the beaches along Dallas Road in a filthy state. Halves of grapefruits, oranges, greens, old tin cans and other trash were strewn along the beach, in the trench, he said, was something appalling.

After inspecting the condition, he gazed out to sea and saw the tug

JAPAN IN NORTH CHINA

There are probably a variety of reasons for Japanese action in North China. One of these is the fact that the Chinese have been for so long nailing the economic boycott against Japan. Another is the menace of Communism and the apparent inability of the Chinese leaders to put an end to the campaign of the insurgent Red Armies which are regarded as weapons of the Soviet Power in promoting unrest. Japan, since the establishment of her tutelage over Manchukuo, has seen that state suffering from the banditry of irregular Chinese troops; the trade of Manchukuo has been hampered. There has been an accumulation of happenings that has led to Japanese invasion of North China and her determination to extend her sphere of influence in the interest of more settled conditions.

The Japanese demands now made on the Government of North China, unless all the circumstances leading up to them are known appear mandatory. They want the compulsory retirement of General Chiang Kai-Shek, the dismissal of the Peiping Military Affairs Council, the abolition of the Peiping gendarmerie and the submission of all political appointees in the North China area to the Japanese military authorities for approval. Japanese troops have occupied the Chinese quarter of Tientsin. If Japanese demands are not complied with it is conceivable that Peiping will be similarly occupied. In any case Japanese troops are on the move south of the Great Wall. There is denial that the campaign is directed against Chinese integrity. There has been no declaration of war. The explanation given by the Japanese Commander of the Army for what is happening is as follows:

"Japan desires to purify the atmosphere of North China and make it more pleasant... If the Chinese show reluctance to fulfil our demands we will be obliged to take whatever steps we deem effective and appropriate." China has given in to some of the demands made on her. She has transferred the Chinese Governor of Hupel Province. So far it does not appear as if China has appealed to the League of Nations for intervention, and if she does the probability is that the League will not intervene since Japan is no longer a member. The League will do no more than it did in the case of Manchukuo.

RELIEF CAMPS

The Commission which investigated British Columbia's relief camps has found but little to justify the complaints that have been made respecting these. They are well administered and "have reasonably fulfilled the object of their establishment and afforded the intended relief." In effect, few complaints have been proved. If the Commission's investigation was sufficiently searching then there appears to have been no justification for the recent strike, unless there is considered to be justification in the claim that only a strike could force the hands of the Federal or Provincial Government to provide work instead of direct relief. The camps in question are being used as places of relief for men while they are awaiting the opportunity to find work. No obstacle whatever is placed in their way in any search for employment. This is indicated by the fact that since such camps were established 25,000 men have left them on promises of civilian jobs. Many more thousands have left the camps, and since they have not returned the supposition is that they have found employment.

The reason for the establishment of camps for single men was either as a refuge between jobs, or a place where young men could find relief until such time as they secured their first employment. The talk of "wage-slaves, of militarism in the conduct of the camps and of burdensome regulations" is so much poppycock. The camps have played an important part in arresting human deterioration which might have ensued through young men drifting idly in the cities. The fact that the great majority of those who have taken advantage of the camps have profited by their experience is the best evidence of their value. They have preserved morale. They have fitted men physically for employment when it offered. Their reputation in the matter of conduct is absolved by the findings of the Macdonald Commission.

"SOCIAL CREDIT" IN ALBERTA

Apart perhaps from Socialism, there is no economic creed among the scores enunciated in recent years so full of platitudes and generalities as that which is known as Douglas Social Credit. Men in these latter days have become the slaves of words and they rarely stop short in their course of reasoning to learn the implications of any theories propounded. This indication of how the mass mind works has had many illustrations. It will be interesting now to learn of the reaction to the latest findings of Major Douglas in the report he has made to the Alberta Government on the possibility of putting his system into practice in that Province.

Major Douglas has given a "yet may be" report, one that tantalizes by its insufficiency. The new economic prescription may not be able to work in Alberta alone, but it is worth while to compound its ingredients on the off chance that it may be used some time. One commentator on the Douglas report describes it as "a weaving of meaningless words," containing "some amateurish, almost juvenile generalities about constitutional difficulties." This perhaps is unfair, as Major Douglas could hardly be expected in his brief mission to have made a complete study of all the implications of the British North America Act. It is his recommendations, for what they are worth, that are of interest, even inasmuch as they cannot be understood by those who are realists in economics. Here are three main ones:

(1) The systematic provision of a news circulation system under the unchallengeable control of the Province, particularly in regard to radio facilities of sufficient power to cover a wide geographical area.

(2) The organization of some credit institution, either under the Dominion Bank Act or otherwise, which will give access to the creation of effective demand through the credit system—principle already well recognized and established.

(3) Systematic organization directed to the accumulation of what for the purpose of the report may be termed "foreign exchange," i.e., effective demand not subject to attack as being recognizable as having been created within the Province.

Apparently the way to social credit is to go into the newspaper and radio business. Alberta has no control over either. There is no reason for newspapers, or the radio, to give a monopoly to the dissemination of the Douglas theories. They are dry as dust at best, vague and enigmatic. The suggestion that Alberta should accumulate "foreign exchange" is about as futile a one as could have been made, because the Province could not begin to do this until it wipes out its provincial debt. The Province has no power to issue currency.

To those who are endeavoring to clarify their vision on economic matters the Douglas report to the Alberta Government offers no hope. Major Douglas was specifically brought to this country to advise that Province how it could establish social credit. This is exactly what he has not done. He has indulged in a lot of platitudes and generalities in his report, and even the United Farmers, with all their agricultural knowledge, cannot extract sunbeams from cucumbers.

CHRISTIANITY IN RUSSIA

One campaign in which the rulers of Soviet Russia have partially failed and in which they have sown the seeds of ultimate reaction against attempts to stifle the soul of man is that of establishing godlessness in the country. Such is the temper of the people that the authorities have been unable to close all the churches, even in Moscow, the head and front of the Soviet authority. Religion still lives in the hearts of the people. Last Easter tide over half a million persons attended services in churches in Moscow, and among these were many youths and young people, and great fervor was shown everywhere. The plans for a new order of secularized society in Russia have left a wholly unsatisfied feeling. The ineradicable need of the human soul has not been satisfied by the Five Year Plan. The more the sufferings the Russian people are being called upon to endure the more the spirit of devotion, not to the machine but to religion, is being engendered.

Dr. Lang, the Archbishop of Canterbury, says that the Holy Church of Russia is being purified as by fire. It is stripped of all worldly power and possessions. It is, however, becoming a more real thing to the people because of the very sufferings which they endure. Now, Dr. Lang says, the spirit of devotion, always deep in the Russian people, and especially in the peasants, has arisen from its slumber. In effect, many of the Russian people are turning back to the Christian faith with wistful longings. That is the inevitable reaction to persecution. If Bolshevism wishes to retain power a cardinal principle in its creed must be an eventual return to the allowance of freedom of conscience among the people of Russia. It is upon its attitude to religion that Bolshevism will be weighed in the balance.

THE OLD BOOKS AND SONGS

An anchor of sanity in a bewildering world. That is how we should regard the old songs and the old books that Britain has bequeathed for many decades and still holds close in her heart. "Lorna Doone," "David Copperfield," "Treasure Island," still live. And "Lily" and "Lorna's Old Sweet Song," still live, too. There is a remarkable climax of human loyalty in the publisher's list of the one hundred Best Selling novels. We cling to those books because their sentiment is true, universal, and for all time—Manchester Sunday Chronicle.

Help thyself and God will help thee.—Herbert.

Two in Jail and One Begging for Food by Wayside

Waleys Plead Not Guilty to Conspiracy and Kidnapping Charges—Bail Set at $100,000 Each—Mahan Hunted by Police as Accomplice Has Been Reported Seen in Montana

(Copyright, 1935, by the Associated Press)

TACOMA, June 13.—Their appearance in public ended temporarily, the Harmon M. Waleys, husband and wife, were in separate cells in the Thurston County jail today, while William Mahan, their hunted accomplice in the kidnapping of nine-year-old George Weyerhaeuser, was reported to have begged for food Tuesday at the home of a Livingstone, Mont., woman.

Mrs. C. E. Jeffries, who told police of the incident, said Mahan was well dressed, carrying a little black satchel that might have contained the missing $89,000 of the Weyerhaeuser ransom. Because she did not immediately think of him in connection with the hunted man, she did not advise the police until today. Officers said he had apparently joined the tourist flow into Yellowstone Park in the hope that he could pass his "hot" ransom money there without suspicion because there are no banks in the park.

AWAITING ATTORNEY

The next step in the prosecution of the Waleys awaits the return to Tacoma tomorrow or Saturday of United States District Attorney J. Charles Dennis, who has been in San Francisco.

In Tacoma, Waley's ill mother, Mrs. Cleo I. Bonney, expressed a desire to see her son, but authorities did not make known their attitude on her request.

Charles W. Drew, manager of the Tacoma Building, a Weyerhaeuser property, announced that stately Haddaway Hall, home of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Weyerhaeuser, Sr., grandparents of the kidnapped lad, will be sold.

FOUND TOO COSTLY

Heirs of the estate were reported authoritatively to feel they could not bear the expense of maintaining it.

The mansion, built in 1923 at a cost of a quarter of a million dollars, was occupied that Christmas. With its terraced gardens overlooking Commencement Bay, it was one of the most pretentious homes in Tacoma.

Calling of a Federal grand jury to indict the Waleys is in the hands of District Attorney Dennis. Federal Judge E. E. Cushman said through his secretary, The Waleys pleaded not guilty before United States Commissioner H. C. Fitch, yesterday on charges of conspiracy to use the mails to defraud J. P. Weyerhaeuser, Jr., of the ransom and to kidnap charges under the Lindbergh Law. Their bail on the combined charge was set at $100,000 each. They cannot be tried until the grand jury is called and indicted them.

COULD CHANGE PLEA

They would then be arraigned before the district judge and could, if they desired, change their plea to "guilty," receiving a life sentence.

PARK CEREMONY WILL BE HELD

Openning of Victoria Goldstream Park Being Arranged by City Council

The Victoria Goldstream Park will be opened officially to the public with a suitable ceremony in about two weeks' time, Mayor David Leeming announced yesterday.

Plans are being made to hold a general picnic at this newly-developed park, in which the Chamber of Commerce, various service-clubs and other organizations will be invited to participate. Entertainment and civic dignitaries will be present, and a ceremony will be held.

The frame for the new log tea room has been put up and other work of park development is progressing rapidly, it was reported yesterday.

Fear For Life of Missing Trapper

ATHABASKA, Alta., June 13 (P)—Fears were expressed for the safety of William James Carruthers, Athabasca River trapper, who has been missing for ten days.

On June 3 Carruthers left his cabin at the junction of the Calling and Athabasca Rivers, travelling by trail downstream to visit his brother. It is feared he may have drowned in the Grand Rapids.

CHANGED THEORIES

The court, ruling in the Jones case, said the trial judge, in his opinion, instructed the jury "in effect that even though the killing was not perpetrated in the commission of a burglary, still if it was perpetrated in the commission of a robbery, the defendant could be convicted of murder in the first degree."

"If the ease," the Court of Errors and Appeals said, "had been tried throughout on this alternative theory of robbery, the charge in this regard may have been impeachable . . . but the ease was not so tried."

CIVIC FEDERATION IS ORGANIZED AND OFFICERS ELECTED

Organization of civic and municipal employees of Greater Victoria into one federation, was completed at a meeting held last night at the City Fire Hall.

Sergeant Arthur H. Bishop was elected president, Wilfred Hulme, vice-president, and Albert Taylor, secretary-treasurer. Members of the executive will be chosen later.

It was decided to call the organization the Federation of Civic Employees of Greater Victoria. A constitution and plans for the future will be discussed at a later meeting.

REVISE WATER FRONTAGE RATE

To Assess Only Those Using Mains From Wilkinson Road to Observatory

Water frontage rates on the recently-installed main from Wilkinson Road to the Dominion Astronomical Observatory were, last night, revised to apply only to those using the water. Previously the council had ruled an assessment of five cents per foot for four years and three cents for each year thereafter for all homes fronting on the water line. The same rate will apply until the observatory is built.

In adopting the new scheme, the council was informed that numerous residents of the section had protested the original move, in that the main had been built by Dominion Government funds to supply adequate water facilities to the observatory in the event of fire.

DRAMATIC SCENE

A motion sponsored by Councillors E. C. Warren and G. S. Eden called for an eight-cent-per-foot rate for the first year, six cents per foot on adjusted frontage, five cents for four years and three cents each year thereafter.

Councillor A. G. Clark entered an amendment calling for the scheme to be set at five cents for four years and then at a three-cent minimum. Both schemes were to apply only to those using the water.

On the vote, Councillors Coton, Lambbrick and L. C. C. Hagan voted for the amendment and Councillors E. C. Warren, W. R. Woods and G. S. Eden voted for the original scheme.

"I feel the babies will be normal by August," said Mr. Clark, "they were seven-month babies and they had to catch up."

DRAMA SCENE

A drama scene was enacted at the observatory yesterday afternoon when Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe, a physician from Ontario, arrived to examine the baby.

"I have full information re movement of trains and facilities provided these men to reach Regina. I have also information re your meeting in Ottawa Tuesday. If there is any trouble while these outsiders are in Saskatchewan we will hold responsible men and ask you and all those concerned to provide the same facilities to take these men out of Saskatchewan as were provided to get them out of Canada and into Saskatchewan."

The Justice Minister laid the blame for the "One-to-Ottawa-March" at the door of the Communist associations, and said the government viewed the trek "as a distinct menace to the peace and good government of Canada."

MOOSE JAW, Sask., June 13 (P)—To enable their Regina supporters to stage a daylight demonstration, the 1,900 British Columbia and Alberta relief camp strikers, marching to Ottawa, will not leave for Saskatchewan's capital until tomorrow.

The Justice Minister laid the blame for the "One-to-Ottawa-March" at the door of the Communist associations, and said the government viewed the trek "as a distinct menace to the peace and good government of Canada."

The stop order was issued at the request of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways, Mr. Gardiner said, fearing damage to property and possibly loss of life to passengers. No orders were given to keep the men under guard and no provisions were made to quarter them.

Early in the day, the speaker James E. Bowmen, called out of prison by J. S. Woodworth, CCF leader, to adjourn debate to discuss the marchers. His judgment was upheld by 85 to 57, with Liberals and Progressives voting against him and Conservatives upholding. The only party holder was A. M. Car-Art.

Nationality of Women Considered by Council

TORONTO, June 13 (C).—Nineteen countries have approved the step towards eliminating distinctions based on sex in connection with nationality. Mrs. Helen Gregory McGill, of Vancouver, told the National Council of Women here this afternoon. She presented her report as convener of the committee on law concerning women and children.

The agenda of the sixteenth Assembly of the League of Nations, she said, included the Equal Nationality Treaty, signed by all North and South American republics at the seventh Pan-American Conference in Montevideo in 1933.

LAWS MODIFIED
Mrs. McGill pointed out that both Canada and Great Britain had modified their national laws, and these laws now differ from the rest of the Commonwealth. She delivered reports from the various councils throughout the Dominion.

New Westminster council, she said, urged the age of protection of children from cruelty to be raised under the Criminal Code to eighteen years.

TO ESTABLISH BUREAU

The Ontario body has requested the National Council to urge the Dominion Government "to establish a national bureau of education and to collect data on education from other countries and from Provincial Governments to distribute for the benefit of interested official and voluntary organizations," the convener announced.

Recommendations from British Columbia included establishment of parental schools for training and education of problematic and younger incorrigible children.

JUNIOR W.A. OF ST. JOSEPH'S HAS ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Junior Auxiliary of St. Joseph's Hospital was held yesterday afternoon in the Nurses' Home, with Mrs. Alfred Hood, the president, in the chair.

A cheque for $145 was presented to Sister Superior to be used as saw fit in the children's ward of the hospital, which is the main interest of the Junior Auxiliary.

The president's report of the year's activities showed that the social service work, which has been just recently started, was progressing satisfactorily under the direction of Miss Beryl Nelson. During the year a novel art exhibit, the annual cabaret, a telephone bridge and rummage sales were held to raise funds.

Nomination of officers took place and a special meeting will be held on Thursday evening, June 27, at 8 o'clock, in the sewing-room of the hospital, when the election of officers will follow.

Following the meeting, tea was served in a table set attractively centred with roses. Sister Superior spoke encouragingly to the members and gave a detailed account of the purchases made with the money donated by the Junior Auxiliary last year.

I.O.D.E. ACTIVITIES

Bastion Chapter

In ideal weather and amid many artistic stalls dotted among the flower beds of the lovely grounds surrounding the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Hunt, at Nanaimo, Bastion Chapter held its annual garden party on Wednesday afternoon. Miss Hazel Dowd, president of the chapter, officially declared the event open, and due to the absence of Mrs. Barker, regent of the chapter, Mrs. Cyril Baker, assisted Mrs. Hunt to receive. Music supplied by E. Mallin's string orchestra, under the direction of Mrs. M. Keighley, enlivened the proceedings. Tea was served in the dining-room. The contest was in charge of Mrs. R. Dier.

Nurses Ask World Peace For Mankind

VANCOUVER, June 13 (P) — The Registered Nurses' Association of British Columbia has passed a resolution urging the Canadian Nurses' Association "to bring to the International Congress of Nurses our determination to stand behind measures for world peace and control of armaments."

"No great international organization can have more intimate knowledge of the human wreckage left by a great war than this great nursing body," the resolution states.

"They also know the glamor and glory that direct and indirect propaganda can build around war. They know the courage and spirit of high sacrifice that animates thousands of young men and women of all countries in the last war."

"If the women of the world united; if they really thought this problem through; if they really wanted to stop war—war could be outlawed, just as slavery and plague, once considered a normal phase of human life, have been."

NOT PROCEEDING WITH CARNIVAL

Duncan's Sweet Pea Festival Committee Charges Lack of Co-operation

DUNCAN, June 13.—The Duncan Sweet Pea Festival committee has decided to withdraw from the planned carnival. The decision was made at, after much discussion, by a vote of 10 to 1.

Lack of co-operation and anticipation of financial failure were given as reasons for the action. C. P. Deykin, chairman of the committee, said the festival depended for revenue on two main attractions, a race meet and a dance. When it was learned that two organizations in the district had combined to arrange a race meet for children, a flag day, race meet and dance for July 1, twelve days before the proposed date of the festival, it was felt the festival, with such similar attractions planned, was bound to suffer in consequence.

MAYOR FAVORS ACTION

W. E. Christmas, as chairman of the finance committee, said he would not feel justified in authorizing the necessary expenditure for the festival in view of counter attractions when the margin of profit over the past three years had been so small. Mayor Prevost, chairman of the programme committee, told of difficulties encountered in arranging entertainments and favored the committee's action.

S. R. Kirkham, R. Crookland and Mrs. E. G. Springett strongly favored carrying on on a smaller scale if necessary.

A financial statement read showed that there were enough funds on hand to pay all expenses already incurred, leaving a small balance on hand.

PREPARING FOR SUMMER SHOW

North and South Saanich Horticultural Society Making Arrangements for Next Wednesday

SIDNEY, June 13.—The North and South Saanich Horticultural Society is making preparations for its Summer flower show, to be held at the Clubhouse and J. J. White's property, Third Street, Sidney, on Wednesday, June 19, from 2 to 8 p.m.

There are forty-nine classes open for competition. This includes classes for children. The musical program will be presented during the afternoon, under the direction of A. W. Hollands. Many other entertaining features are being arranged.

Entries must be in the hands of Mrs. E. L. Hammond or Mrs. J. J. White, not later than Monday, June 17.

RED CROSS WILL HELP HOSPITAL

Nanaimo Branch Will Concentrate Activities for Balance of Year—Concert Planned

NANAIMO, June 13.—That there will be no relief association, as intended by the local branch of the Red Cross Society, was the stand taken at a regular meeting held at the home of Mrs. H. Cannon, when it was reported that there were no funds for this purpose. The society will devote its activities for the balance of the year to the aid of Nanaimo Hospital.

Before Summer adjournment, a concert will be held on June 16 in the Capitol Theatre, with Mrs. Marie Gould in charge.

Mr. J. E. Brinwell presented a list of requirements for the Pearson-Gibson ward in Nanaimo Hospital.

Mrs. W. Paishy was named convenor of an album quilt, for which the members will sign their signatures.

LADYSMITH WILL SEND DELEGATES

Representatives Appointed for Convention of Boards of Trade—Favor Crow County

LADYSMITH, June 13.—Two delegates, T. Colline and J. King, from the Board of Trade here were appointed to the monthly meeting Tuesday evening to represent Ladysmith at the convention of the Associated Boards of Vancouver Island.

The annual convention this year will be held at Campbell River, and the Campbell River Board will be official hosts for the occasion. There are only four resolutions on the agenda for the convention, and the Ladysmith Board decided it had nothing additional to submit.

The Comox Board, in a convention resolution, voted that the Liquor Act be amended to permit the sale of native wines and beers in hotels and restaurants.

The Courtenay-Comoex Board and the Chamber of Commerce in Duncan can have resolutions dealing with increased provision for the restocking of rivers with fish and food, and surveys of Island East Coast areas affecting salmon feeding and spawning.

Malahat Board will appeal for better telephone facilities for Malahat Drive by the installation of public pay stations at that part.

BANKER TELLS OF HIS IMPRESSIONS

G. Hamilton Harman, of Bank of Montreal, Gives Picture of City As Seen by Visitor

G. Hamilton Harman, manager of the Douglas and Yates Street branch of the Bank of Montreal, gave members of the Rotary Club his first impressions of Victoria upon arrival from the Prairie Provinces during a meeting held at the Empress Hotel yesterday.

"My first impressions were the beautiful settings of the Legislative Buildings and the Empress Hotel, together with the mild air and green grass growing in December," declared Mr. Harman. "The police seemed to have a more military than a law-and-order appearance, but just as keen as members of their professions elsewhere. Stores I saw were well stocked."

Mr. Harman mentioned that Victorians were not as familiar with the many beauty spots and points of historical interest as he thought they should be. One of his strongest impressions was that citizens extended a hearty welcome to visitors and did all they could to make them feel at home.

Says Lawyer Frank J. Hogan, of Washington, in a moment of humor: "The ideal client is a man of unlimited resources who is easily surprised."

"In spite of unfavorable publicity," he said,

Horticulturists Picnic at Farm

METCHOSIN, June 13.—The Horticultural section of Metchosin and District Community Club held a luncheon picnic at Sidney Experimental Farm on Tuesday. A large number of people of the district attended and had an instructive and enjoyable outing. Professor Straight escorted the party around until luncheon, after which everyone was free to walk about and admire the beautiful grounds. Miss H. Meredith-Jones, convener of the picnic, had arranged all transportation, and everything ran smoothly and well under his able direction.

JEWELRY STORE AT NANAIMO IS ROBBED

NANAIMO, June 13.—The jewelry store of H. Thorneycroft was broken into Wednesday and about $400 worth of rings, watches and other goods stolen. Entrance was gained by cutting through the panels of two doors at the rear of the establishment.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE—TWO KINDS

You are hearing and reading much about high blood pressure. In a general way if an individual tells you that he has high blood pressure you understand that the pressure of the blood against the sides of his blood vessel is so strong that one of the tiny vessels may break and cause trouble; if it breaks it and cause a "stroke" of paralysis.

You know in a general way also that if the pressure is high it is because of "obstruction" somewhere which makes it necessary for the heart to pump much harder to force the blood through the obstructed vessels.

In real high blood pressure, where the obstruction is always present, part of the walls of the blood vessels which is made up of elastic tissue has lost some of this elastic tissue. Where there has been any infection in the system, some of the elastic tissue may become inflamed and a deposit of hard tissue takes the place of some of the elastic tissue.

You can thus see that when the heart pumps the blood into these vessels the walls will not stretch open or "give" to the pressure of the blood as they would if their elastic tissue had not been damaged.

Where there is high blood pressure, and yet the walls of the blood vessels have plenty of elastic tissue, it is because the nerves that supply the muscle of the walls cause the muscle fibers to tighten and partly close the vessels.

What causes the nerves to tighten the muscular walls of the blood vessels and by making it hard for the heart to pump blood through them, increase or raise the blood pressure?

Excitement, keeping the body too tense most of the time, emotional disturbances, all tend to "tighten" the blood vessels.

Now this increased blood pressure which is caused by the emotions "tightening" the walls of the arteries is naturally not considered as serious as when the blood vessels are "lost" some of their elasticity, but nevertheless continuous increase of blood pressure against the blood vessel walls can, in time, actually damage the elastic tissue and cause true or real high blood pressure.

The thought then is that "calmness" of spirit, which means keeping ourselves relaxed instead of tensed, will prevent our blood vessels becoming old before their time.

And we are only as old as our blood vessels.

TRIANGLE THEME OF NEW PICTURE

"Thunder in the East" Co-Stars Charles Boyer and Merle Oberon—Intrigue Featured

The eternal triangle, treated with a decidedly new twist, forms the basis of the story of "Thunder in the East," the much-discussed Leon Garkoff production, formerly known as "The Battle," which Al Lichtman presents at the Dominion Theatre for three days, starting today.

Charles Boyer, Merle Oberon and John Loder play the three corners of the triangle—the Marquis Yorinsaka, noble Japanese naval commander; his lovely Westernized wife, Mitsuka, and Fergan, the handsome English officer with whose she falls in love, respectively. Obsessed with patriotism, Yorinsaka puts his love of country above life and honor itself and, in order to gain the secrets of the superiority of British naval strategy, deliberately encourages Fergan to pay court to his charming little wife.

At first bewildered by her husband's tactics, the obedient wife gradually becomes suspicious and snared by the Englishman's charm and falls in love with him. The husband gains the information he sought, but at the bitterest price the gods could ask a man to pay.

PLAYHOUSE A trivial incident THEATRE may decide the fate of nations. In "The Unfinished Symphony," now at the Playhouse Theatre, a Gaumont-British picture, which has as its theme a romantic story of Schubert's B Minor Symphony, the idle laughter of a young woman interrupted the composer's thread of inspiration and the symphony was left unfinished. Marta Eggerth, Hana Jaray and Helen Chandler are the principals.

COLUMBIA Dorothy Burgess, featured in Columbia's "Black Moon," now at the Columbia Theatre, was chased right out of the studio the other day. Not that she is disliked by anyone, but she was responsible for the following: According to the glaziers, who were fitting new glass in one of the sets, she noted that one of the men had a large ball of putty in his hand. "My, my!" she said pityingly. "Glaziers lead a putty hard life, don't they?"

"LES MISERABLES" AT CAPITOL TOMORROW

Darryl Zanuck's lavish 20th Century production of the Victor Hugo classic, "Les Misérables," opens tomorrow at the Capitol Theatre.

Freddie March, Charles Laughton and Sir Cedric Hardwicke share stellar honors in the powerful film drama which Richard Boleslawski directed from a screen play by W. Lippencott.

Rochelle Hudson, Frances Drake and John Beal have featured roles, while also prominent in the supporting cast are Florence Eldridge, who Mrs. Freddie March in private life; Jessie Ralph, Ferdinand Gottschalk and little Marilyn Knowden.

"Les Misérables" is a Joseph M. Schenck presentation, released through United Artists.

Floods Take Heavy Toll in Colorado

Approximately fifty persons were reported dead or missing in the Western flood area as the Platte, Republican and other rivers, swollen by continuous rainfall, cut a swath of destruction through Colorado. In the top photo, indicated by an arrow, are several people who sought refuge on house tops when flood waters of the Monument and Fountain Creeks overflowed their banks in Colorado. Lower photo shows an airplane view of Kiowa, Colorado, after flood waters of the Kiowa Creek ran through the town, taking the lives of three women. Immediately in front of the schoolhouse is a building carried off its foundations and dropped in the middle of the street.

"MELODAMANIA" TO BE SEEN IN DANCE REVUE

"Melodamania" will be even more intriguing than it sounds to those who attend "Moods and Melody," a gorgeous ballet spectacle to be presented at the Royal Victoria Theatre on June 22, at 8:15 p.m. by the Russian Ballet School, producers of such past successes as "Twinkle Toes" and "Happy Feet."

Taking the notes of the scale as its motif, "Melodamania" introduces dancers dressed in musical costumes on which are designed the treble and bass clef, containing the melody they are interpreting.

A study in black and white, this act should have great appeal to music lovers and dance enthusiasts alike. Military, waltz, waltz and other dance rhythms will be interpreted in a most gorgeous setting with spectacular lighting effects.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

FORTY-NINE STATES

My friend, Walter Malowin, one of the country's ranking players, and a past national champion, is noted for his skillful and resourceful play of no trump contracts. In order to prove that he is equally clever at playing his hand when there is a trump suit, today I am going to recount one of Mr. Malowin's triumphs. The hand was played in an expert game at Crocker's Club in New York.

Before I give the details of the bridge hand, I must mention another triumph of Malowin's. Playing in a game to see who could name the greatest number of states in the Union, Malowin easily named forty-nine states. His greatest competitor named only forty-eight. When on a recount the other players refused to concede the victory to Malowin, he objected; he had named Omaha as a state and maintained that it was every bit as good a name for a state as Idaho.

The old lady from the country entered a telephone box. She got her call, then left the box.

Ten minutes later she returned, and once again took off the receiver.

"No, I didn't want a number," she explained in an agitated voice, "but I left my new umbrella behind just now. It isn't here. I suppose you haven't seen it, have you, please?"

Since the two-spade overcall had not shown such freak distribution as South actually had, he thought it wiser to take the double out. This was correct and a glance at the hands will show that three clubs could be defeated 300 points or more.

Malowin held four spades and was the declarer at four spades. West opened with the king of clubs which Malowin ruffed. He now led a spade to dummy's ten and played the queen of clubs. This he did not ruff, for he planned to discard one of his losers on this and one later on the club jack, thus giving up one trick in exchange for two.

When he discarded on the club queen, Malowin used a clever ruse which successfully led the defense astray. Instead of discarding a diamond, he threw the eight of hearts. Now when West took the club club ace he feared that he had used his last spade. He now led a spade to dummy's ten and played the queen of clubs. This established the queen of hearts in dummy and later Malowin was able to discard one of his losing diamonds on the jack of clubs and the other on the queen of hearts. He lost only three tricks and made four spades.

NEW BOOK IS INTERESTING

"Fish and Game in British Columbia" Valuable to Sportsmen

Written by A. Bryan Williams, former game commissioner for British Columbia. "Fish and Game in British Columbia," is a complete and valuable guide to all who desire to fish and hunt in this great province. From the fisherman who loves to fish the elusive trout with the fly, to the hunter who delights in tracking over the hilly country to hunt the fine game that abounds in this country, all will receive much valuable information in this new publication, written by a man who has made fish and game hunting and study his life's work.

Mr. Williams was appointed game and forest warden in 1905, exactly three decades ago, being the first official in the Province. He continued in this position until 1918. Then followed ten years when he acted as professional guide to prominent men from all over the world, who came to British Columbia because of the game possibilities. In 1929 Mr. Williams returned to Government service as provincial game commissioner.

BORN IN IRELAND
Born in Culway, Ireland, Mr. Williams was educated in England and in 1888, armed with a letter of introduction to a big cattle rancher in Washington, he came to this country to make his fortune. He got as far as British Columbia and his love of hunting proved too much for his business instinct, and he stayed for awhile. He never reached Washington.

Well-known in his official capacity as game commissioner, although his two previous works, "Game Trials in British Columbia" and "Rod and Reel in British Columbia," Mr. Williams' large army of friends and followers will be vastly augmented by the publication of this new book. "Fish and Game in British Columbia," which is a complete guide for the hunter and fisherman.

From all over the world, China, South America, Africa and Europe, Mr. Williams has received inquiries from sportsmen who want to make trips to British Columbia in quest of game and the fish which abound so plentifully in the rivers and lakes of this great province.

COURTESY VISIT TO BE RETURNED

Local Veterans Will Present Flag to American Legion in Seattle Tomorrow

When the Ss. Princess Marguerite sails at 9 a.m. tomorrow on the Army and Navy Veterans' excursion to Seattle it will be the start of a return courtesy visit to the American Veterans, when they came here last year on July 4 and presented a replica of the historic mace to the Premier of British Columbia.

On arrival at Seattle the Victoria Veterans will be met at the boat by the officials of the "40 and 8" of the American Legion, headed by Major Charles Smith, one of their active members. The president of the local Army and Navy Veterans, J. Scarfe, will then present a large maple leaf top and suitably engraved, the work of which has been done by disabled veterans at the Red Cross Workshop. The presentation will be made to Chef de Gare William Bloch, Jr., as a token of good will from the Victoria Army and Navy Veterans.

A parade will be formed and march to the Savoy Hotel, headed by the Drum and Bugle Corps of the University Post of the American Legion, while with the band, composed of a leading band of the Seattle Post, American Legion.

Arrangements have been made at the Savoy Hotel for guides to take those excursionists interested to nearby points of interest, including a tour of the KOMO Broadcasting Station, while another will visit the large city library, and a third will go through the County City Building and jail, thus giving excursionists a chance to see, at no extra cost, things that are not usually open to the public. Through the co-operation of the C.P.R., the Princess Marguerite will not leave Seattle until 7 p.m.

TO PHOTOGRAPH BEAUTY OF CITY

Experts From Hollywood to Take Series of Technicolor Studies Throughout Victoria

Victoria's beauty has been widely heralded and now motion picture Parsons will be permitted to gaze and wonder at nature's gifts. From Hollywood there arrived a group of experts in technicolor motion picture work and made headquarters at the Empress Hotel.

The visitors are B. D. Sharpe, associated with James Fitzpatrick of Fitzpatrick Travel Talks; Winona Hoch, technicolor camera expert, and his assistant, Fred Detmers, all of whom yesterday were in consultation with B. E. Norris, manager of the Associated Screen News, Montreal.

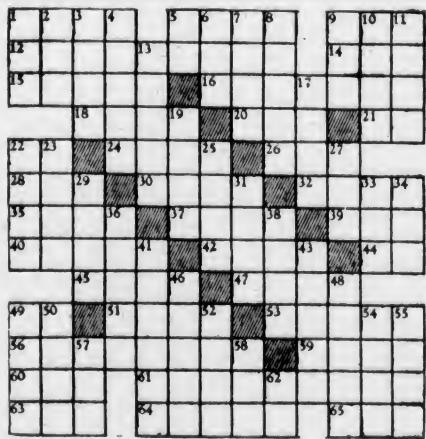

All Greater Victoria's beauty spots will be photographed, including R. P. Butchart's Gardens, the Malahat Drive and many private gardens during the next few days.

The motion picture series here is being taken through the Associated Screen News. Mr. Norris explained, and a future series of color pictures will be taken at Lake Louise and Banff, and in the Province of Quebec.

Descriptive talks about the local pictures will be recorded by sound equipment in New York. Mr. Sharpe said the series will be shown down Fitzpatrick Travel Talks throughout the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer chain of motion picture theatres in the United States and Canada.

WASHINGTON, June 13 — Shirleys Imperial Council yesterday chose Leonard F. Stuart, Washington, as Imperial Potentate to succeed D. S. Williams, Lewiston, Me. The next session will be held at Seattle.

CHAPTER XXXV

We were condemned to death without a hearing by a military court sitting at Fort Hill, before which we appeared in chains. April '19 was set for our execution; we were then taken back to Queen Street.

This time, however, we were conducted to the upper tier of the prison, recently finished.

It was now January 1, 1775. All Greater Victoria's beauty spots will be photographed, including R. P. Butchart's Gardens, the Malahat Drive and many private gardens during the next few days.

The motion picture series here is being taken through the Associated Screen News. Mr. Norris explained, and a future series of color pictures will be taken at Lake Louise and Banff, and in the Province of Quebec.

Washington, June 13 — Shirleys Imperial Council yesterday chose Leonard F. Stuart, Washington, as Imperial Potentate to succeed D. S. Williams, Lewiston, Me. The next session will be held at Seattle.

Dulcima let me know that Jack had loosened one bar of his window. So I worked like a madman at my own still unyielding bars, for Jack refused to stir a peg unless I could escape, too.

It was now the middle of March; a month only remained to us in which to accomplish our liberty.

If only the freezing weather continued! But to my despair, a warm thaw set in. In vain I worked at the bars.

Weeks before, Mount had sent the girl to seek out Mr. Foxcroft and tell him of my plight. I also had sent her a note to Silver Heels.

The girl returned to report that Mr. Foxcroft had sailed for England early in November, and that nobody there had ever heard of a Miss Warren in Queen Street.

Then Butler's boat came to me, and I sent word to Shemuel, bidding him search Lexington for Miss Warren. I had not yet heard from him.

Meanwhile Mount communicated through Dulcima, with the Minute Men's Club, and already a delegation headed by Mr. Revere had waited on Governor Gage to demand my release on grounds of mistaken identity.

The Governor laughed at them, assuring that I was notorious; but as the demands passed, so serious became the demands from Mr. Revere, Mr. Hancock and Mr. Otis, that the Governor sent Walter Butler to assure these gentlemen that he knew Mr. Cardigan well, and that the rogue in prison who pretended to that name was, in fact, a notorious felon named the Weasel.

At this, Shemuel came forward to swear that Mr. Butler and I were deadly enemies and that Butler lied, but he was treated with scant ceremony, and barely escaped a ducking in the mill pond by the soldiers.

Meanwhile Mr. Hancock had sent a message to Sir John at Onondaga, urging him to come to Boston and identify me.

No reply ever came. Possibly Sir John never received the message.

Matters were at this pass when I finally gave up all hope of loosening my window bars, and sent word to Jack Mount that he must escape that very night. But the frightened girl returned with an angry message of refusal from the chivalrous blockhead.

The next day it was too late; Bishop's auspicious somehow had been nixed, and he soon discovered the loosened bars in Jack Mount's cell.

How the brute did laugh! He searched Mount's cell, discovered the awl and a file, shouted with laughter again, summoned masons to make repairs and, still laughing, came to visit me.

I did not dare to leave my poison flask under the stone. As I heard Bishop coming, I drove the glass stopper firmly into the flask and then placed it in my mouth, together with the small gold ring I had bought in Albany, and had so far managed to conceal.

It was a desperate move; I undressed myself as Bishop made his entrance, sat down, fell back with suspense, while he rummaged. He found the depression where I had hidden the flask. The awl lay there, and he punched it with a chuckle.

It was a desperate move; I undressed myself as Bishop made his entrance, sat down, fell back with suspense, while he rummaged. He found the depression where I had hidden the flask. The awl lay there, and he punched it with a chuckle.

When Bishop had gone, I drew the deadly little flask from my mouth, trembling and chilled with sweat. Then I placed it again in its hiding place, hit the ring against my shoe, and slowly dressed. Bishop did not search my cell again.

And now the days began to run very swiftly. On April 18, toward 5 o'clock in the evening, a turnkey passing my cell, told me that General Gage was in the prison with a party of ladies, and that he would doubtless visit my cell. He added grimly that the death watch was to be kept over me in the cell for two and that, thereafter, I could expect no more visitors from outside until I held my public reception on the gallows.

Laughing heartily at his own wit, the turnkey passed on, and I went to the grating to listen and look out into the twilight of the corridor. No one was around.

"Jack," I called hoarsely, "the death watch begins tonight."

OPERATION MAY SAVE DOG'S LIFE

NANAIMO, June 13 — An emergency operation performed at the scene of the accident is believed to be successful and will save the life of a valuable Boston Bull pup, which was struck by an automobile and laid in a vein of red rock. Dr. More, who happened to be a passenger of the B.C. Automobiles office here and a veterinary surgeon, jumped from his machine and closed the wound. He rushed the dog to his residence, where he took in sixteen stitches.

I could not utter a sound for the horror that froze my tongue.

"Yes," he continued, thoughtfully. "I ride this night to Lexington. She's a sweet little thing; I think you have seen her—perhaps picked her pocket. When we are wed we will be a bride for long. Give me joy. We are to know the day this very night."

I sprang at him, stone-blind with rage. But the steel door crashed in my face; the locks rattled.

When Bishop came in the morning he thought me ill and summing up the situation, but ere that individual appeared, I was quiet and self-possessed, ready to convince him I needed no nostrums. All that day I watched for Dulcima; twice I saw her go to Mount's cell but could hear nothing of what they whispered.

Now as I was standing, looking out of the grating, I chanced to glance down, and saw that the apothecary had left his case of herbs and drugs on a bench just outside my cell door.

Idly I read the labels on the bottles and boxes: "Senna, Jalap, Bismuth, Camomile, Saffron, Pills, Tincture Opium."

Opium! An easy death.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 12—Imitation may be the sincerest form of flattery, but it often proves disastrous to amusement originators. A shining example is the eclipse of Helen Kane. Her petulant boo-boop-a-dooping jumped her out of obscurity into a four figured weekly salary.

She packed movie stage shows and musical comedies as no other performer of her day. Then came a flood of imitators on the stage, screen and radio. So evidently done art seemed an easy accomplishment. In a movie cartoon she brought the derrick showed a half hundred girls could do her trick.

Then there was Joe Penner's goofy gang-gang-goo. He shot up to a salary of five figures and is still in demand but only moderately so. There was scarcely a day when he did not appear in a radio programme without a pseudo Penner and it grew pretty tiresome. Joe Frisco has so many imitators he's almost constantly at liberty.

Too, too, there is the hunky veiled dramatic actress, Lenore Ulric, missing from the boards too long. There was a time when every vaudeville mimic impersonated her. But the most conspicuous suffocation by imitation was Eva Tanguay. At one time 200 performers were essaying her littry twists.

TWO former champs, Miss Marjorie Todd, of the Victoria Golf Club, and Mrs. E. Jackson, Uplands Golf Club, who were forced to battle desperately against a stubborn opposition, came through in the semi-final of the women's city championship yesterday afternoon at the Oak Bay links.

The young Oak Bay shotmaker, who held the crown in 1930 and again in 1932, eliminated Mrs. E. Sayward-Wilson, Colwood Club, last year's runner-up and the tournament medalist, 3 and 1, while Mrs. Jackson, the 1933 titleholder, reached the final bracket by her great 2-up decision over Mrs. J. Hutchinson, Oak Bay, present provincial champion.

This afternoon's eighteen-hole final will start at 1:30, and a large gallery is expected to trail the pair, who will be seeking the honors held last year by Miss Mary Mackenzie-Grieve, who was the first woman to beat Miss Todd in the second round.

The fourth flight went to Mrs. Freeman, Gorge Vale, who beat Mrs. Woodcroft, Uplands, 2 and 1.

All members of the Saanich Thistles football club are requested to meet at Central Park this evening at 6:30 o'clock.

On Sunday the players are asked to meet at Bullen Park at 2 o'clock, for an exhibition game with the Esquimalt eleven.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 13 (AP)—Noah Henline, fifty-eight, one-time major league outfielder, died at a hospital today of a heart attack suffered last night at his home.

TAKES LEAD

Parring the first hole, Miss Todd took early lead. The second was halved in fours, and Mrs. Todd, missing a three-footer for a win, both got on the third green in three strokes. She was halved in fives, and the Oak Bay player then overplayed the fourth green, but approached deadly to gain a half in fives. Marjorie Todd smacked a second short shot dead to the flag at the fifth, which she won to go up two, after Mrs. Sayward-Wilson caught a trap with her second. A four won the hole.

Mrs. Sayward-Wilson bumped into trouble on the next hole when her second shot went through the fence, out of bounds, and the hole to go down three. Miss Todd canned a long putt for her par four. Both were on the seventh in two and Mrs. Sayward-Wilson sunk her five-footer for a win. Threes halved the short eighth, and then Mrs. Sayward-Wilson took the next with another three, after Miss Todd's tee shot found the beach, thus making the Oak Bay player one up on the turn.

Still "looking up" and throwing her body into the shot, Miss Todd again sent her missive down on the beach, and then sliced her second behind trees. She hit the flag with her fifth, but lost the hole to Mrs. Sayward-Wilson's five, and the match was all squared up.

SINKS LONG PUTT

The eleventh was halved in fives and Miss Todd won the long twelfth after laying Mrs. Sayward-Wilson a half-stymie, and went up again at the next hole when she caged a long putt after her opponent caught a bunkered with her drive. The next three holes were halved, and Miss Todd ended the match at the seventeenth when she got on in three and got her five.

Mrs. Hutchinson won the first hole against Mrs. Jackson with a par five, the second was halved in fours, and Mrs. Jackson squared the match at the third. A four gave Mrs. Hutchinson the next hole, but Mrs. Jackson evened matters once more by getting a half with a par. Again the British Columbia girl took the lead with a four at the sixth, but a three gave Mrs. Jackson the next, and then Mrs. Hutchinson canned a long putt to square the match at the ninth. Both went out in 40.

TOUGH BREAK

Mrs. Hutchinson took the first hole on the homeward route with a five, but Mrs. Jackson came right back and won the next two holes with four and five, to go up 1. Mrs. Hutchinson got a tough "break" at the eleventh when she knocked her opponent's ball into the cup to lose the hole. After halving the thirteenth, Mrs. Jackson took the lead with a win at the next green, and added to it with another win at the fifteenth. Mrs. Hutchinson rallied with her opponents dormie 3 and won the next two holes with a four and a six, to send the match to the eighteenth tee. However, Mrs. Jackson was on at two and parred the last hole to win the tassel, 2 up.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

World's Finest Writing—There have many specimens of fine pen writing, rice grains, postage stamps, and single grain, writing the entire alphabet more than 346 times. Zaharie used only small magnifying glass in his painstaking work.—To a person with excellent eyesight, the letters are visible under the same glass, but are perfectly legible under a high-powered microscope. The record rice grain is on exhibition at the "Believe It or Not Auditorium," San Diego, Cal., where Zaharie himself is appearing daily.

The Man-Bearing Lily—Victoria Regia, named after Queen Victoria of England, is a gigantic water lily which grows in the streams of South America. It is very remarkable for its floating leaves, which grow to six feet or more in diameter. The leaves are circular and have an upturned edge several inches high. The leaves are full of air spaces, which renders them buoyant so that the average leaf will support from 10 to 200 pounds in weight. Some will easily support a man seated on a chair. Victoria Regia bears a pea-like fruit, called watercorn by the Paraguayan Indians, who eat it with gusto.

New Ruler of Heavies

JAMES J. BRADDOCK

Veteran New Jersey fighter, who sprang the biggest surprise in ring history last night, in Madison Square Garden's big bowl at Long Island, when he pinned his way to the unanimous fifteen-round decision over Max Baer, California, to hit the world's heavyweight championship. Entering the ring at the odds of 10 to 1 against him, the largest ever to face a challenger, Braddock took everything Baer could throw; and through sheer stamina and ruggedness went on to be awarded the decision of the referee and two judges.

Speers and Anderson in Semi-Windup—Ginsberg To Meet Hindu

Reputed "bad man" of the ring, Frank "Frankenstein" Speers, from Atlanta, Georgia, will be seen in action tomorrow evening at the Tillman Gymnasium when he appears in the semi-windup of the twelve-round card presented by Promoter Fred Richardson. Speers will face Gurne "Rubber Legs" Anderson, Minneapolis bone-crusher, in the five-eight-minute-round squirm on the all-heavyweight programme. A local preliminary will open at 8:45 o'clock.

through a fight that at times was as tame as any in modern heavyweight championship history. Even in the glow of victory they couldn't call him a great champion.

But he ploughed along, setting a pace that seemed even to convince Baer, finally, of the futility of it all, of the impossibility of staying in the most amazing of staves. A local preliminary will open at 8:45 o'clock.

Topping the card will be "Baron" Benny Ginsberg, bewhiskered matman from Chicago, and Jagat Singh, giant Hindu grappler from Punjab, India. The boys are scheduled to go eight ten-minute rounds. Ginsberg flattened Anderson in spectacular fashion here last week, and tomorrow he hopes to bring to a climax the winning streak of the matman from the Far East.

POPULAR HERE

Famous for his "rubber legs" and his uncanny method of literally tying himself up in a knot, Old "Rubber Legs" Anderson is very popular with Victoria mat followers. He has been here many times before, and has always been given a good hand by the fans.

With two good heavyweight bouts on the card, and the promise of plenty of rough tactics in the main match, the card should be one of the most exciting presented here for many a day.

DEFECT VICTORIA BY 126 RUNS IN WEDNESDAY LEAGUE MATCH AT BEACON HILL

REMEMBER WHEN

(Twenty-Five Years Ago)

Brilliant bowling performances by N. Smith, team captain, and Eric Quainton, coupled with some excellent batting by A. Griffin, V. Adie and F. Comley, the only three members of the club to bat. Five C's defeated Victoria by 126 runs at Beacon Hill Park in a Wednesday Cricket League match.

Going to bat first, the churchmen put on 157 runs and declared after the fall of both wickets. A. Griffin and V. Adie, the C's first wicket, batted splendidly, putting up 105 runs before the fall of Griffin's wicket. Griffin had six fours and two sixes, and Adie had seven fours.

Quainton and Smith bowled in sensational fashion for the winners, the former, who took all wickets for thirteen runs, being practically unplayable. Smith accounted for the four remaining wickets for the small total of sixteen runs.

G. H. Kinch played his usual stubborn defence and was undefeated at the close. He carried his bat after scoring fifteen runs, the only double-figure score put on by the losing side.

HORSESHOE CLOWNS

Baer clowned in the early stages,

but it had no effect tonight on this cold, slow-moving, remorseless Irishman with the heart of a bulldog. He laughed at Braddock at the start, snorted down from his greater height, posed, walked around adjusting his trunks, waving to the crowd now and then, even going once into his rubber-legged dance, when Braddock hit him a "pippin" of a right flush on the chin in the eighth.

But from the ninth on, Baer was fooling neither himself nor anybody else in the hushed, breathless sunken bowl under the hot Long Island sky.

ROUND ONE

Baer, instead of rushing backed carefully away, and Braddock hammered two rights to his head. The champion sneered as Braddock pressed sturdily forward, whipped a left hook to the head, but missed a long right, and took a short right to Baer's chin.

Baer missed a left hook to the head, but Baer, much the bigger man, laughed and posed as Braddock shot three lefts to the head and a right to the body. Baer, however, with a right uppercut, outjabbed Baer with a right to the chin.

GOING AFTER NEW RECORDS

T. Campbell Black to Undertake Series of Long-Distance Flights

Before the Northern Summer

President W. H. P. Thompson stated:

"I am sending T. Campbell Black, co-pilot with C. W. Scott, the Comet twin-engined monoplane which won the England-Australia speed and handicap races last October, will be engaged on a series of long-distance flights that may establish new records over some of the world's chief present and future air routes.

His machine will be a new and improved Comet, embodying refinements and modifications based on experience gained in the building of the two Comets that were entered for the England-Australia races. Work on the new craft is already well advanced.

One of the three original Comets has been sold and delivered to the French Government, the Portuguese Government has bought another, and the third—the actual race winner—has been acquired by the British Air Ministry for experimental flying. A second Comet is being built for France, which like Portugal, intends to use the machines for experimental flights with mail over the South Atlantic air route. Modified to carry mails and a small quantity of other cargo, the original Comets cruise at more than 200 miles an hour.

FASTEST PLANE

Campbell Black's Comet is designed to fly at a speed of at least 290 miles per hour. Its maximum attainable level speed will be approximately four miles a minute and its range on one fuel load in still air will be 2,750 to 3,000 miles. It will be the fastest airplane carrying the British civil air ensign.

The airman's plans concern flights which will be basically useful. He will attempt to set new records which will add to the prestige of British aircraft, especially when such records are held at present by foreign machines, and thus to "fly the British air" into new markets. Details of his flights are not yet decided, though a general scheme has been drawn up.

It is known, however, that he is particularly interested in the route linking Latin-America with Europe and Africa, which up to the present has been followed almost exclusively by French, German and Italian aircraft:

Anglers All Ready for Big Contest on Sunday

Considerable Interest Being Displayed in Poodle Dog Cafe Competition at Brentwood—Eight Prizes Presented by Horace Beer

The sheltered waters of the picturesquely Saanich Arm, popular rendezvous for fishermen, will present a busy scene Sunday as members of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association vie for honors in the Poodle Dog Cafe competition. One of the four big meets held annually by the association, Sunday's contest promises to be one of the finest and largest of its kind ever held at Brentwood.

Horace Beer, popular manager of the Poodle Dog Cafe, under whose auspices the meet is being held, is donating eight prizes for the competition. First prize will go to the angler who hooks the best fish; a special prize for the best woman angler; two consolation prizes, and a special prize for the largest salmon hooked by an angler using a rowboat, comprise the prize list.

BIRTHDAY CAKE

One of the features of the event will be the cutting of the large birthday cake, marking the third anniversary of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association, by Mrs. Frank Smith, wife of the president.

A silver cup from Plumley & Ritchie, Limited; 3, a silver cup from the Harris Bicycle Store.

Class "E"—1, a silver cup from Jacob Aaronson; 2, a silver cup from the Hudson's Bay Company; 3, a silver cup from Peden Bros.

Class "F"—1, a silver cup from Robinson's; 2, a silver cup from the Harris Bicycle Store; 3, a silver cup from B. J. Smith.

In addition to these awards, Charles Burr, of the Hillside Pharmacy, has offered a camera to the young rider competing in the race, complying with all regulations and completing the full distance.

The race is under the supervision of the city, Provincial and Saanich police departments, who have cooperated each year in keeping the course clear for the riders and in controlling the crowds around the starting and finishing line. Valuable aid in this connection is rendered by members of the Victoria Cycling Club, who man the course. Inspector T. B. Bell, in charge of the traffic control, requests that cars be parked on Quadra Street, from Tolmie Avenue to Bay Street. At this point the riders show their final burst of speed in the dash for the tape and any congestion tends to lessen the chances of all save the foremost man. The official car will circle the course a few minutes before the race and distribute programmes, on which each rider's name, number and color is given. Through the courtesy of the Seven Oaks Supply Store and Goodwin's Grocery, officials will be posted to report the progress of the race back to the starting point. This will be announced to the waiting throngs by H. J. Herbert, using a public address system installed by the Victoria Amplification Service.

The competition will open at day-break on Sunday morning and will continue until the sounding of the bugle at 6:15 o'clock, denoting the close of another great day at Brentwood. All fish must be weighed on the official scales by 7 o'clock.

BIG FISH BITING

With the big salmon being taken at Brentwood, officials in charge of the competition are confident that it will be a big fish that will bring first prize to the lucky angler.

Boats of all sizes, from the small eight-foot rowboat to the smarter and faster powered launches, will be going over the water with lines dangling, and fishermen in large numbers anxiously awaiting the tug at the line that signifies a "catch" and brings joy to even the youngest fisherman.

Last year's winners, and many anglers who have won the coveted buttons of the Chinook Club, will be among the large army of fishermen that will be out to gain signal honors in the first big competition of the present season.

Class "E"—1, a silver cup from Robinson's; 2, a silver cup from the Harris Bicycle Store; 3, a silver cup from B. J. Smith.

In addition to these awards, Charles Burr, of the Hillside Pharmacy, has offered a camera to the young rider competing in the race, complying with all regulations and completing the full distance.

The race is under the supervision of the city, Provincial and Saanich police departments, who have cooperated each year in keeping the course clear for the riders and in controlling the crowds around the starting and finishing line. Valuable aid in this connection is rendered by members of the Victoria Cycling Club, who man the course. Inspector T. B. Bell, in charge of the traffic control, requests that cars be parked on Quadra Street, from Tolmie Avenue to Bay Street. At this point the riders show their final burst of speed in the dash for the tape and any congestion tends to lessen the chances of all save the foremost man. The official car will circle the course a few minutes before the race and distribute programmes, on which each rider's name, number and color is given. Through the courtesy of the Seven Oaks Supply Store and Goodwin's Grocery, officials will be posted to report the progress of the race back to the starting point. To say of an individual that he is a bughouse means he is insane, would put the face of it seem to be just about as slangy as slangy bear. This, however, is far from being the case.

The facts in the story are quite surprising, even to the lover of words, who in this connection is days it was commonly believed that demented people were inhabited by our English word bug from the evil spirits.

Jane Dixon Says:

SINCERELY, A SCHOOL TEACHER NEEDS TO DO A LITTLE SELF TEACHING

How sincerely I wish that today I might meet the writers of the letters answered in this column and get a close-up of your problems.

Perhaps you would not be so frank, face to face. I hope you would like to help, but there are so many questions I am burning to ask you.

Sincerely: I'm going to include your letter, exactly as it is written, because it is one of the most interesting appeals I've had in many a moon.

Here's an old maid, professional-minded, now working up her Master's Degree, finding the schoolroom situation pleasant, seldom in the same place on week-ends, an alert teacher, yet unsettled. Friends seem too transient. Everything appears to be chaotic and pointless. You say that my feelings are callous? I had a nervous breakdown when my fiance married another woman rather than wait a while for me. I have had love affairs, since, but I keep remembering the first one, the end of which definitely plunged me into the professional teacher concept. How am I to gain real purpose and confidence as a teacher.

GET OUT OF THE RUT

You may sound difficult to yourself. Sincerely, but in my opinion the diagnosis is fairly simple.

You have allowed yourself to suffer from frustration.

You are privileged to be doing the work you like and for which you are qualified.

You have the good fortune to have the friends you enjoy and who enjoy you.

You have a superior education and you have independence.

You are one of these, and you cling, rather greedily, to the rotten apple in the barrel.

You are creating your own chaos, my dear. Sincerely. You know as well as I do that there is no point in clinging to yesterday. There is a rather silly and weak little streak in your strength which has burgeoned out into a romance about your great loss.

A Master's Degree woman should be able to rid herself of chaos and pointlessness, otherwise she should not get her degree.

LISTING SOME REAL TROUBLES

I wish you could sit in on this desk and listen to women who have reason to suffer.

Wives with philandering husbands.

Mothers who want to know what to do about their children since the fathers have gone berserk.

Girls who have loved well but not wisely.

Young men infatuated with gold-diggers.

Middle-aged men who want to know whether they should go on being miserable with the stodgy wife and the kids or go places with the cutie they love.

Grandfathers who tell me they are "Forgotten Men" and isn't it about time they stepped out and found what makes this good old world tick?

I have a Master's Degree myself, so as one master to another I may remind you that chaos is a state of mind and that we create our own state of mind. I have a subtle notion that you would prefer marriage to teaching, but you can do neither, with success, while you permit your mind to be in a chaotic state.

Why not be happy with what you have—so much—and the settled happiness will have a better chance to park on your landing field.

This was to be the regular clean-up day but we'll have to skip it because I got into an argument with a school teacher named Sincerely.
